

Hamline University School of Business
Presents a Hamline Dialogue:

“Cross-Sector Leadership in the Twenty-First Century”

Monday, October 26, 2009

6:30-8:30 pm

Kay Fredericks Room, Klas Center

6:30-7:00 Reception (light hors d'oeuvres will be served)

7:00-8:30 Panel and Q&A

In our increasingly complex world the traditional lines between the public, private and nonprofit sectors continue to blur. As we redefine the purview of the sectors, the players involved in solving problems and addressing issues have become more intertwined. This Hamline Dialogue brings together leaders from across all three sectors to address the growing need for cross-sector leadership and cooperation. What does it look like? When is it necessary? How do we best make it work?

Panelists:

Ellen Anderson, MN State Senator District 66

Kathy Benning, Senior Vice President, Buffalo Wild Wings

Peter Hutchinson, President, Bush Foundation

Robyne Robinson, Fox 9 News

Nora Slawik, MN State Representative District 55B

Free and open to the public.
