

HAMLIN UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF BUSINESS
ACCOUNTING FACULTY POSITIONS AVAILABLE
(Assistant/Associate Professor)

The Hamline School of Business in Saint Paul, Minnesota, seeks applicants for two faculty positions in Accounting.

Hamline is the oldest university in the state of Minnesota and has more than 4,000 undergraduate and graduate students. Ranked first in quality and value among universities in Minnesota by U.S. News and World Report, Hamline's mission is to create a diverse and collaborative community of learners dedicated to the development of students' knowledge, values, and skills for successful lives of leadership, scholarship, and service. The university consists of the School of Business, College of Liberal Arts, School of Education, Graduate School of Liberal Studies, and the School of Law.

Hamline School of Business houses undergraduate and graduate programs. As a result of the university's Strategic Plan 2007-2012, the School of Business is expanding undergraduate and graduate program offerings to meet the needs of students who will require skills and knowledge to succeed in the rapidly changing realities of our local and global communities. New faculty will play a pivotal role in developing new programs and majors.

Evidence of excellence in teaching is essential. Ph.D. in Accounting with an active accounting research agenda is required for a tenure track position. Ph.D. or other terminal degree in a related field will be considered for a visiting position. Candidates must have demonstrable competencies in teaching, advising, and mentoring students from culturally diverse backgrounds, and must be committed to the promotion and enhancement of diversity, equity, and inclusion in support of academic excellence. Preference will be given to candidates with a record of scholarly publications and a demonstrated commitment to an active research agenda. Intellectual contributions and service responsibilities are required at the level of an AACSB-accredited business school for tenure-track positions.

The candidates selected will teach undergraduate and graduate accounting courses. They will be involved in developing an undergraduate major in accounting.

Screening begins immediately and will continue until the positions are filled. The appointments are available beginning August 2009.

Candidates are encouraged to visit Hamline's Web site (www.hamline.edu) before applying for a faculty position. Please send a résumé, letter of application, and a list of names, addresses and telephone numbers of three professional references. Applications will be accepted electronically.
