OCCUPANCY

1. Apartment Eligibility:

The Resident must currently be:

- A. An enrolled law or graduate student at Hamline University, or
- B. An enrolled, full-time, CLA student with junior or senior class status, or
- C. An enrolled, full-time CLA student who is 25 years old or older at the beginning of the contract period, or
- D. The spouse of an eligible student (as defined in 1A-1C) living in an apartment with that student, or
- E. The same-sex domestic partner of an eligible student (as defined in 1A-1C), living in an apartment with that student. Domestic partners and spouses must be approved by the apartment manager. Residents will be assessed $100 per month for their domestic partner and spouse.

2. Residence Hall/House Eligibility:

To be eligible for housing, the resident must be a currently enrolled full-time student at Hamline University. Students may not sign up for housing for any period of time less than the entire academic year or the portion of the academic year remaining at the time of initial occupancy. So, for example, the student may not register for housing for fall semester and then move out without paying a financial penalty for breaking the housing contract.

3. Spouse and Partner Eligibility:

The Office of Residential Life offers spouse and partner housing when available. Spouses and partners who are not enrolled as a student at Hamline University must obtain an official school ID through the Office of Safety and Security. An additional $100 per month will be charged to the registered student's account. A background check will be required for all live in Spouse/Partners at the student's expense. Housing may be denied based on outcome of the background check.

4. Terms of Occupancy:

This contract is for the entire period indicated on the reservation card, or the portion of the period remaining at the time of initial occupancy.

5. Contractual Relationship:

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary which may be contained in this written agreement, expressly, implicitly or otherwise, it is specifically understood and agreed by and between the parties that it is not the intention of Hamline University nor the Resident to create a landlord-tenant relationship, and that the intention is strictly contractual in nature, for housing, and not for a specific apartment or room, and for the utilities and other ancillary support services provided by the University. The University reserves the right to reassign residents and/or pack up and move belongings to a secure location in emergency situations.

This contract is for a space on-campus, not a specific room. The University reserves the right to make room assignments and reassign students as necessary. Whenever a vacancy occurs in a double, triple, quad, house or apartment, The Residential Life Office staff may assign another student to that space at any time. When a roommate cancels, the student(s) left in the room may be moved to other rooms, halls, or apartments as necessary to accommodate housing needs. The University will make every attempt to honor assignment preferences. Failure to honor an assignment preference will not void this contract. The resident is not permitted to sublease his or her space.

Residents who wish to be reassigned to a different room must receive approval from the Residence Hall Director or Apartment Manager prior to moving. Approval for room a change is based on availability and discretion of the Hall Director or Apartment Manager.
