Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Commemoration and Day of Service

Date: January 16, 2015

Time: 9:15 am

Location: Sundin Hall and then neighboring community

Join members of Hamline University and neighboring communities for a celebration of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s life and legacy on Friday, January 16 January 2015 beginning at 9:15 a.m. This year's event will reflect upon Dr. King's call for "The Quest for Peace and Justice," from his 1964 Nobel Prize Lecture.

The day begins with the annual Martin Luther King Jr. commemoration event in Sundin Music Hall from 9:15 - 10:15 a.m.

Participants include President Linda N. Hanson, undergraduate students Ikram Osman ('16) and Kong Vang ('15), Hamline College of Liberal Arts Professor Colleen Bell, Hamline School of Law Associate Dean Andrew Crouse, and others. The program also features music from the Hamline Gospel Choir.

Hamline Community members will be participating in community service following the program.

2015 NCORE Annual Winter Mini-Conference - "Exploring the Racialization of Minnesota: Past, Present and Future"

Date: January 23, 2015

Time: All Day Event

Location: Anderson Center 111/112

Registration is now open for the 2015 NCORE Mini Conference. This year we will be diving into an exploration of the racial and ethnic history of Minnesota and its historical and contemporary manifestations of race in our lives. Our program will include the histories of the many diverse racial and ethnic groups that call Minnesota home. We will examine the impact and implications of race, racialization, and racism, as well as ways to further racial justice efforts in ourselves, our relationships, and the institutions and communities in which we live. This is a day long program (ending at 4:30 p.m.) and registration is required. To sign up please visit <http://tinyurl.com/NCORE2015> no later than Tuesday January 20th.
