With a Master of Arts in Education from Hamline, you will:

• Grow through an interactive, engaging, authentic, and personalized educational experience.
• Become a master teacher and teacher leader who can promote equity in schools, build communities of learners, construct knowledge, and practice thoughtful inquiry and reflection.

“After researching other programs in the area, I chose Hamline’s MAEd program because it had a capstone. I wanted that aspect of learning about action research. Through the process of doing my capstone, I became a much more confident writer and a better teacher of writing for my students.”

—ANGELA NELSON, ’09 MA-Education, ’14 Administrative Licensure, associate principal

ADMISSION

To apply for admission to the MAEd program, please submit:

• Online application (no fee for U.S. residents).
• Official transcript of a bachelor’s degree with a GPA of at least 3.0 from a nationally or regionally accredited college or university. This should be sent directly from the institution to Graduate Admission or provided in a sealed, signed envelope. You do not have to provide transcripts for courses taken at Hamline University.

Provisional admission: If you have a GPA of 2.5-2.9, you may be considered for provisional admission. Please provide a one to two page written reflection indicating your plans for meeting the Hamline GPA requirements if admitted to the program.

• Two-page essay explaining why you have decided to pursue an MAEd, how the program will support your professional goals, and what outcomes you expect will result from your participation in the program.

• Two letters of recommendation written by people unrelated to you, who are familiar with your academic and/or professional history and who can accurately assess your potential for successful graduate study. Letters must be sent directly to Graduate Admission by the person writing the recommendations.
