Communication...

We all do it! Below are select results from the Fall 2015 Diversity Climate Study that explored how we communicate with each other.

Hamline undergrads listed a total of 22 different first languages.

How often have you had discussions with people from religious beliefs other than your own?

In addition to discussions about religious beliefs, the survey also inquired as to whether participants had discussions with people of different race/ethnicities, economic backgrounds, sexuality and gender diverse identities, political views, or disabilities that participants were aware of.

Graduate students listed over 16 different first languages

Hamline faculty listed a total of 6 different first languages

Hamline staff listed a total of 6 different first languages
