

August 2014

Brought to you by the Office of Institutional Research

Contact: inst-research@hamline.edu

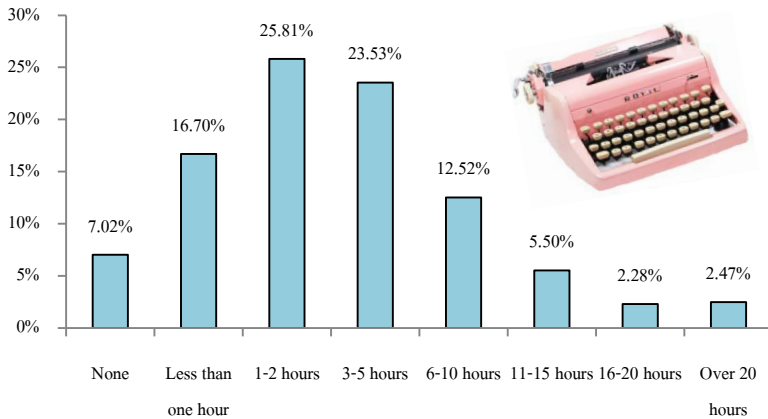

Hot off the Press

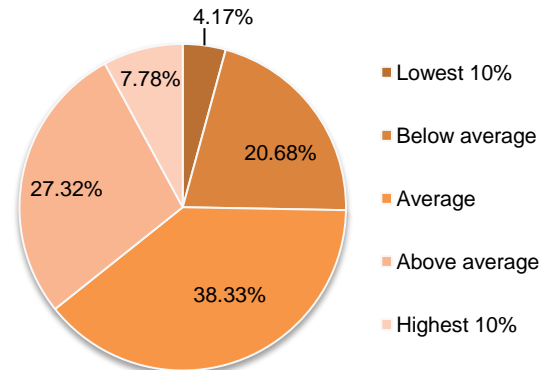

Approximately 500 students attended Piper Preview on Hamline's campus this summer!

Prepping for New Pipers!

Hours Per Week Spent on Online Social Networks

Self Rating of Public Speaking Ability

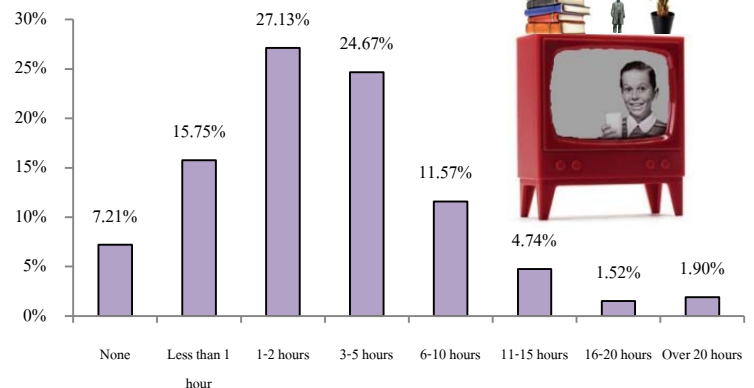

73% of students have a goal to become an authority in their field (% of respondents who selected somewhat/very important)

Students are less interested in becoming accomplished in the performing arts (82% selected not/somewhat important)

About 70% of students have a goal to help others who are in difficulty (% selected very important/essential)

The majority of students want to get a job in the future to help pay for college expenses.

Hours Per Week Spent Watching TV

88% of students chose to attend Hamline after a visit to the campus

*All data representative of first-year students from the CIRP 2012 data.

