

November 2013
Brought to you by the Office of Institutional Research
Contact: inst-research@hamline.edu

Self-Reported Time Spent Studying

The NSSE is a 100-item survey administered once every three years to Hamline first year and senior students. Hundreds of schools administer the NSSE nationwide, and Hamline is compared to the Carnegie class, which is comprised of 156 colleges and universities comparable to Hamline in degree seeking behaviors. For more information, please visit

<http://www.hamline.edu/offices/institutional-research/nsse/>

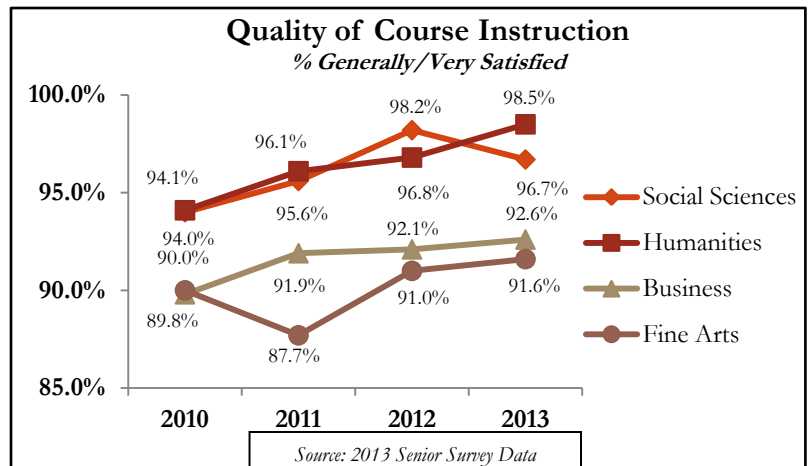

Source: NSSE 2012

Hot off the Press

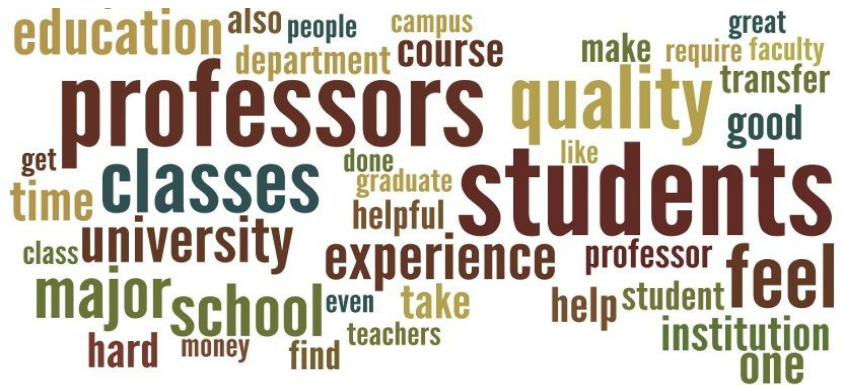

Hamline undergrad students identify with over 30 religions, including Catholicism, Lutheran, Muslim, Evangelical, Unitarian Universalist, Judaism, and Disciples of Christ.

Fall 2013 Census Day Data

Do you have feedback on the quality of your education?

Source: NSSE 2012 First Year and Senior Comments

Where's Bishop Leo?

Spotlight: Oyuna Uranchimeg, Career Development Center

Special congrats to Oyuna Uranchimeg, the Technology & Systems Coordinator at the Career Development Center for successfully finding Bishop Leo in the October issue and winning our random sample drawing! Contact Oyuna with questions about Hamline Career Link, the CDC's online job posting system at buranchimeg01@hamline.edu.

Leo was hidden in the hand at the left in the October issue. Can you spot him in this issue? Email Molly at misaacson03@hamline.edu if so!

